By Leta Angier Lemfest

A

Carl Purdy searches the California mountains for their rarest, bulb treasures and makes them known to all the world.

Carl Purdy, on the ranch, in what the magazine calls "the mountainous part of Ukiah," has spent years gathering and collecting rare lily bulbs. Today he is an expert in this growing. There is a species of lilies, "the Sierra lily," which cannot be found anywhere else but in the mountains of Ukiah. He has spent months and months in the search, and now is said to be the only person in the world who has the bulbiferous lilies. They will produce flowers that are larger and more beautiful than in their native

But all over the world are lilies, and these are the most beautiful that can be found. They are

In the mountains of Ukiah, the lilies are more fragrant and more beautiful than in any other part of the world. The lilies here are

...and the lilies, and the lilies, and the lilies.

The lilies here are

...and the lilies, and the lilies, and the lilies.

The lilies here are

...and the lilies, and the lilies, and the lilies.

The lilies here are

...and the lilies, and the lilies, and the lilies.

The lilies here are